Tecum habita, etc. Persius, Satires, 4. 52. Thus translated by Gifford: To your own breast in quest of worth repair, And blush to find how poor a stock is there. 2 1. Silva rerum et sententiarum, etc. Silva, the raw material of facts and thoughts, v i, wood, as it were, so called from the multiplicity and variety of the matter contained therein. For just as we are commonly wont to call a vast number of trees growing indiscriminately a wood {timber}; so also did the ancients call those of their books, in which were collected at random articles upon various and diverse topics, a wood (timber-trees). Cf. Jonson s Underwoods. Preface to the Reader: With the same leave the ancients called that kind of body sylva, or in which there were works of divers nature and matter congested; as the...
